

seventeen
October, 2009

seventeen's
MISSION AWARDS

YOU CAN

change the world!

Have you ever been so passionate about a problem that you felt like you'd do anything to fix it? That's how these girls got started—let them inspire you to make a difference! By Jessica Press with additional reporting by Katie Sanders

STOP HUNGER

"Hunger is an invisible problem—people don't tell you, 'I'm hungry. I need help,' because of the stigma."

AMY CARLTON, 17
LAKE OSWEGO, OR

HER MISSION: Amy was horrified when she found out that 12 million kids risk going hungry each day—in America alone! So she founded Teens Fighting Hunger, selling products like jewelry and greeting cards (made by her and other teens) to raise money for food banks.

Amy has raised more than $50,000 selling goodies, like these earrings!

MAKE IT YOUR MISSION:

Visit
www.teensfightinghunger.org